We Dedicate

Three years ago, West Rowan gained a teacher who has proved to be a valuable asset to the administration and to the students. She is held in high esteem by other members of the faculty because of her co-operative, industrious, and friendly nature. To the students she is known not only for her sparkling wit, but also for her understanding and constant devotion to students and their activities. Because of this, she deserves not only appreciation but also recognition. Therefore, we, the students of West Rowan, proudly dedicate this, the seventh edition of the West Wind for the year 1966 to

Miss Libby Edmundson

Administration Guides Faculty and Students

The year 1966 has brought about many changes at West Rowan, but the principal one is the change in leadership. Mr. Charles Fleming, a man of efficiency and dedication, is appreciated by the students and faculty alike. Because of his subtle sense of humor and genuine understanding, he has earned the respect and admiration of the student body.

West Rowan is fortunate to have such a dedicated and admirable woman as Mrs. Hall on the administrative staff. Through the many years of her continual service she has become a part of West Rowan. An attempt to convey her meaning to the school is ineffable; therefore, we can only submit our gratitude and appreciation.

I am a part of all that I have met.

- Tennyson

West Rowan is a living part of all of us in that all we have encountered here has made our lives significant. Each of us by conforming to the everyday stimulus of high school has concomitantly acquired individualism. Each graduate of West Rowan obtains something from his four years here. Something which helps the young adult to become a productive part of society. Something which prepares him for the future academically and provides the atmosphere for character development.

Each member of the student body, regardless of his academic or social standing, is influenced by the characteristics of West Rowan and, therefore, through its people, places, and things a lasting imprint is instilled in our lives.

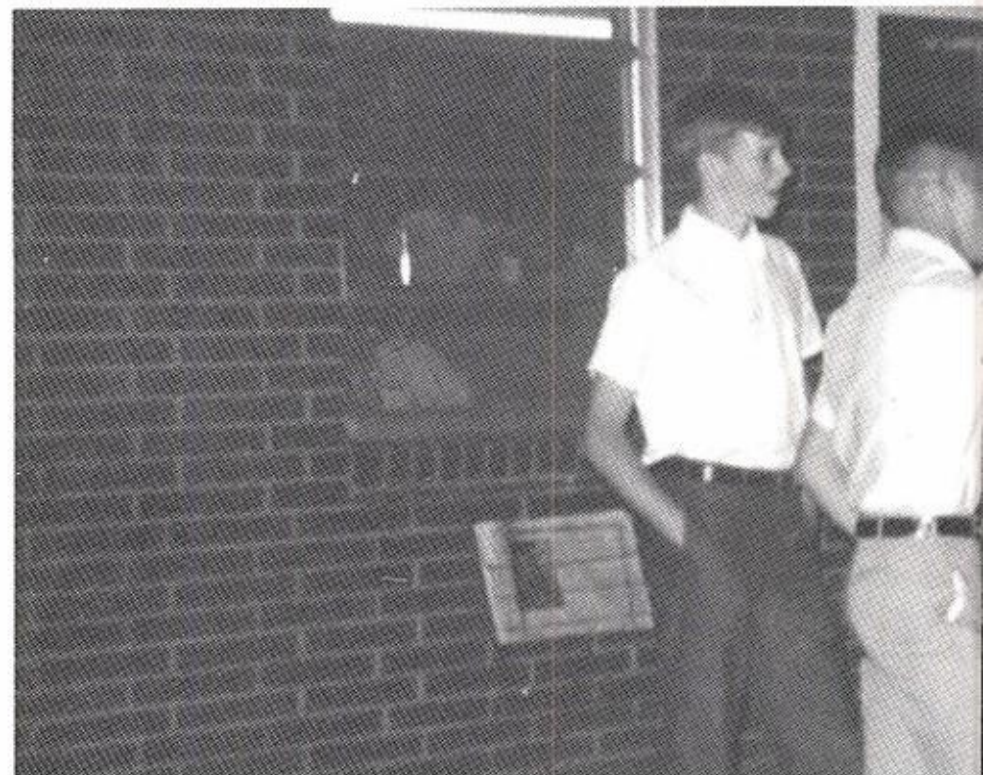

People

People are essential to the function of the school for they provide the actual foundation for which the school is organized. Teachers, scholars, athletes, fun-lovers, status seekers, -all these people and more constitute the milling crowds which are to be seen here at West. The reputation of the school stems from the attitudes of the students and is maintained by the standards they set for themselves. Therefore, a school without people is like a dictionary without words, a library without books, or a typewriter without keys.

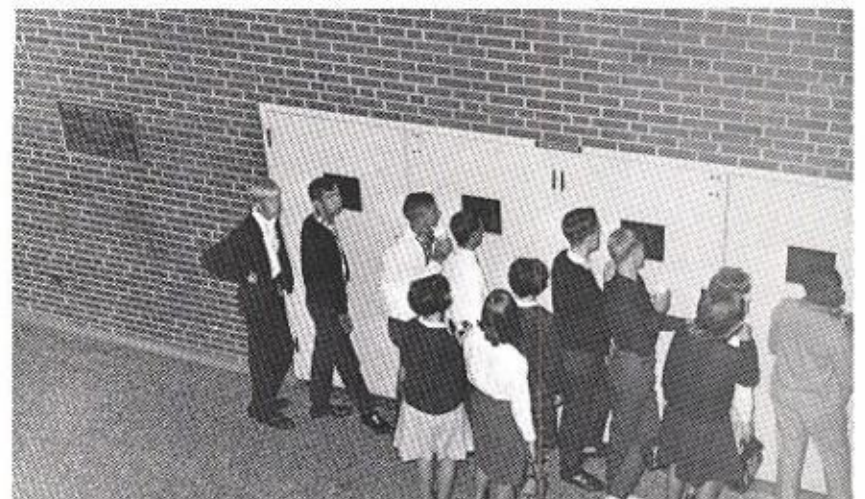

Places

Just as people represent the school, PLACES represent the moods of the people. The locker area is constantly surrounded in chaos; the student lounge--relaxation; the library----contemplation; Winks----a potpourri of emotions; the lunchroom----complacency and commotion; the gym and stadium----joy and disappointment. Different places vary in value with the temperaments of the students, for a person's whereabouts must correspond with his emotional responses.

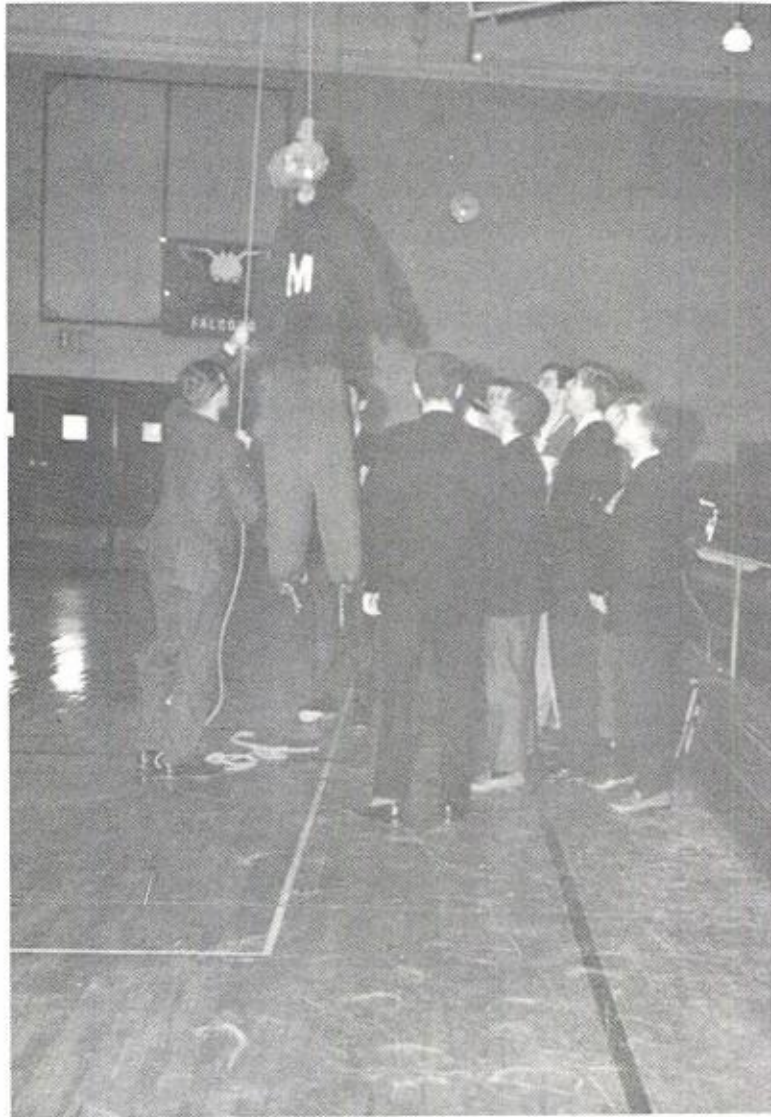

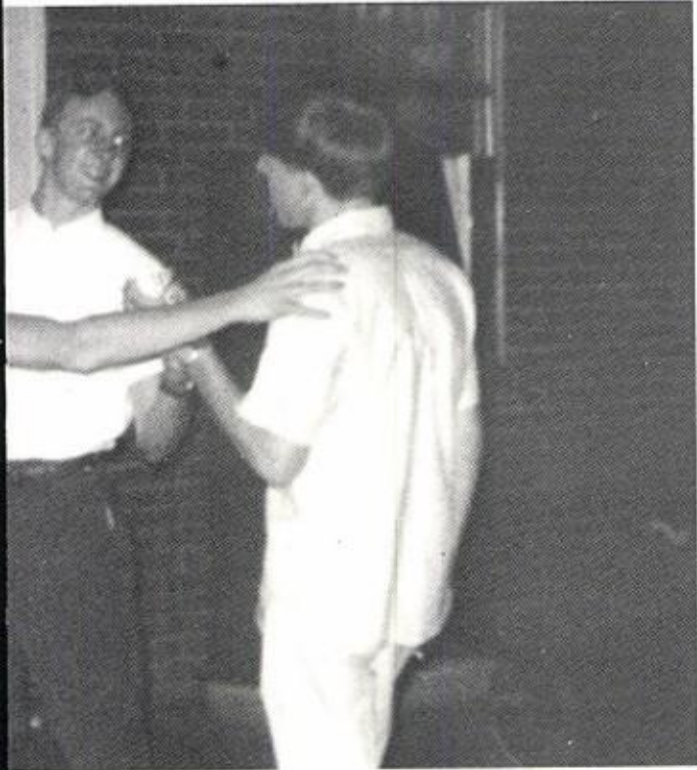

Things

Just as people and places are included in the daily routine of West, THINGS maintain equal importance. Books--the keys to knowledge whose significance lies with the individual; clocks --always under the vigilance of the students who measure their day by its face; the victory bell--seen amidst the cheering crowds in the stadium; the buses--speeding to their destination with boisterous students; the fountain--may its gold-fish rest in peace; the homecoming floats--a display of class competition--all these and more go into the making of each day at West, and therefore constitute a successful and memorable year.

Intangibles

INTANGIBLES are those elements which are incapable of physical contact and thus are opposed to those concrete things which we observe each day. Friendship, laughter, disappointment, failure, success, and school spirit are felt and experienced by the individual student. Without these emotional contacts one's existence is barren and lacks emphasis. People, places, and things are significant in one's memory, but in coming years this significance can become strained and repressed. Intangibles, however, have perpetual significance for time can never diminish that which belongs to the soul.

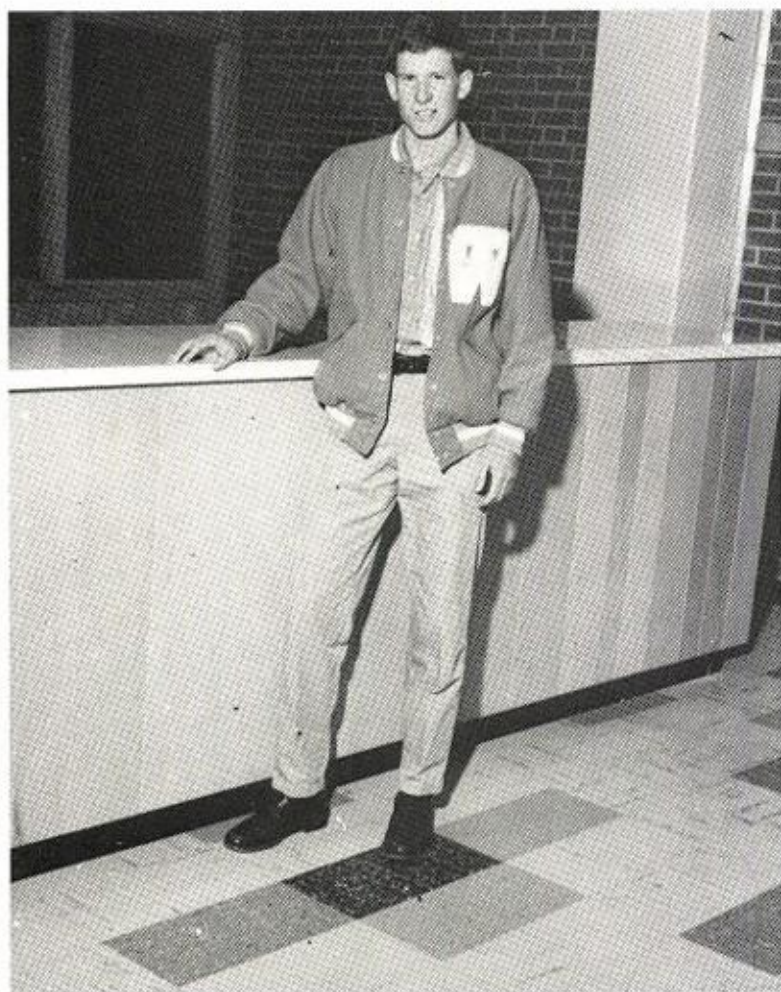

STUDENT LIFE

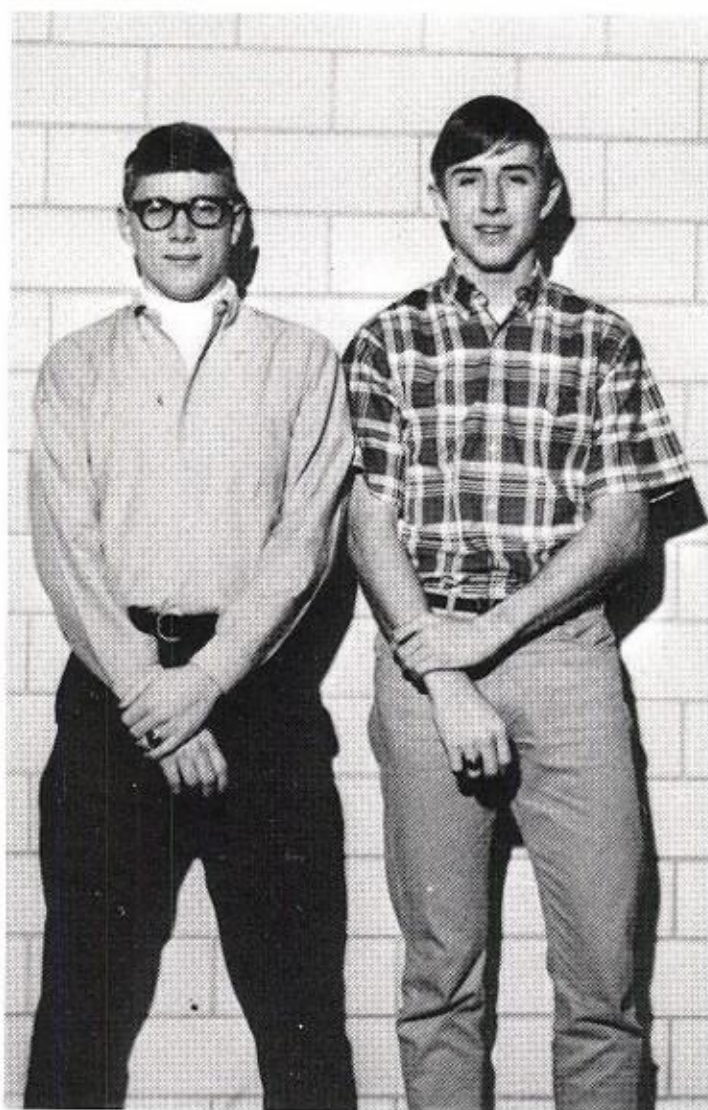

The student life at West is lively, individual and versatile. The mood these qualities reflect changes with the pace of the students. It is sombre when students are pensive, striving to attain high academic goals. It is carefree as students frolic in the snow or relax in the student lounge. It is demanding as students gather for assemblies, take part in leadership training, or work on science projects. But it is rewarding when students achieve high marks, laugh with friends, or see a job well done.

Outstanding Students Gain Recognition

President of Student Council:
Bill Watson

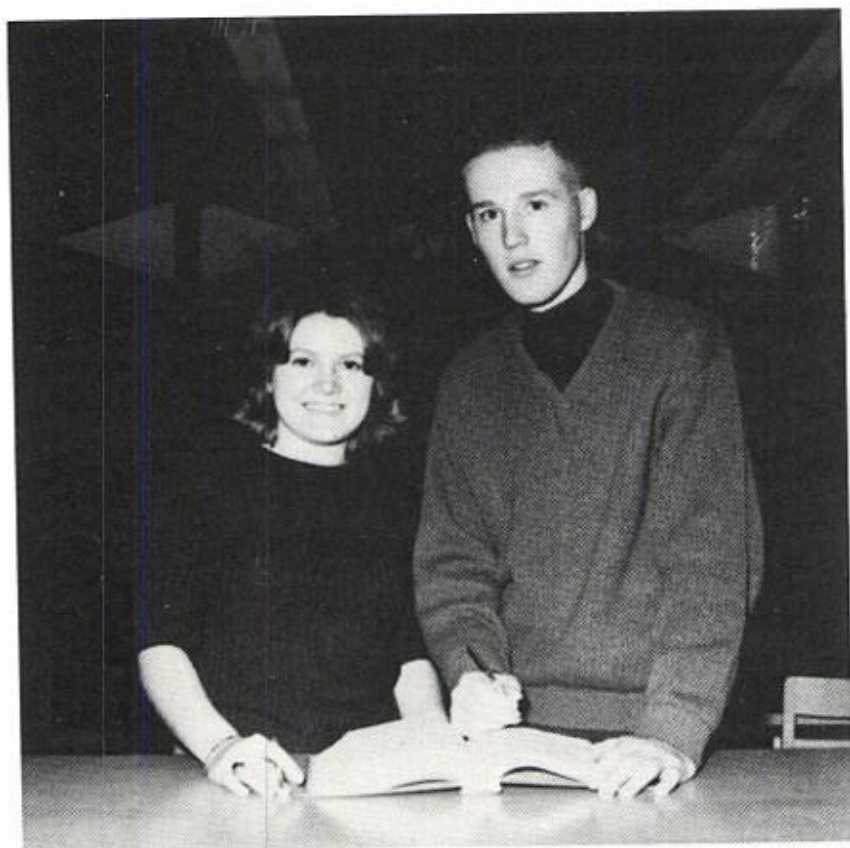

Any degree of excellence deserves recognition. Each class contributes students who excel in leadership and academic areas because of their outstanding abilities. Through their excellence these students not only enrich their characters but also the CHARACTER of the school.

Students Stimulated

The school provides an assortment of programs that enrich student life other than scholastically. Students are urged to take part in the annual magazine drive and to participate in the leadership training course. Twirp Week also provides a liberal endeavor for student enlightenment, as did the trip to Oak Ridge. Through these various activities, the students are provided with opportunities to stimulate their interests in the school and in themselves.

Individual Personalities

There are approximately 3,218,000,000 people in the world; 191,334,000 in the United States; 4,556,155 in North Carolina; 82,817 in Rowan County and 650 at West Rowan High School----and not a one of these is alike.

Human beings have no carbon copies for every individual is unique in the sense that he is the sole possessor of his character. Woe to the world if all personalities were stereotyped!

ACADEMICS

The need for the educated man in present-day society is a demanding one. Therefore, the school must provide proper training to meet and fulfill this need. At West, the student receives this training and knowledge through the various programs offered to him, and is better prepared to meet the challenges of society.

Teachers Develop English Skills

Correct usage of the Great Books was shown to all English Classes this year.

The English department continues to distinguish itself through the efforts of capable faculty members and extended curriculum. Besides the required English curriculum, the department offers several elective courses to stimulate the student's interest. Two new courses available to students are Drama and Public Speaking and Debate. Both of these provide experience and personal benefit for those interests. A course in Advanced Grammar and World Literature not only increase a student's writing ability but also broadens his prospective toward literature.

Mrs. Tarlton, instructor of drama and speech, performs the duties of a homeroom teacher.

One of the major productions of the drama class was the presentation of "Eight Women and A Ghost."

New Courses Open Avenues of Learning

Jim and Pat give a required report for the unit of French literature.

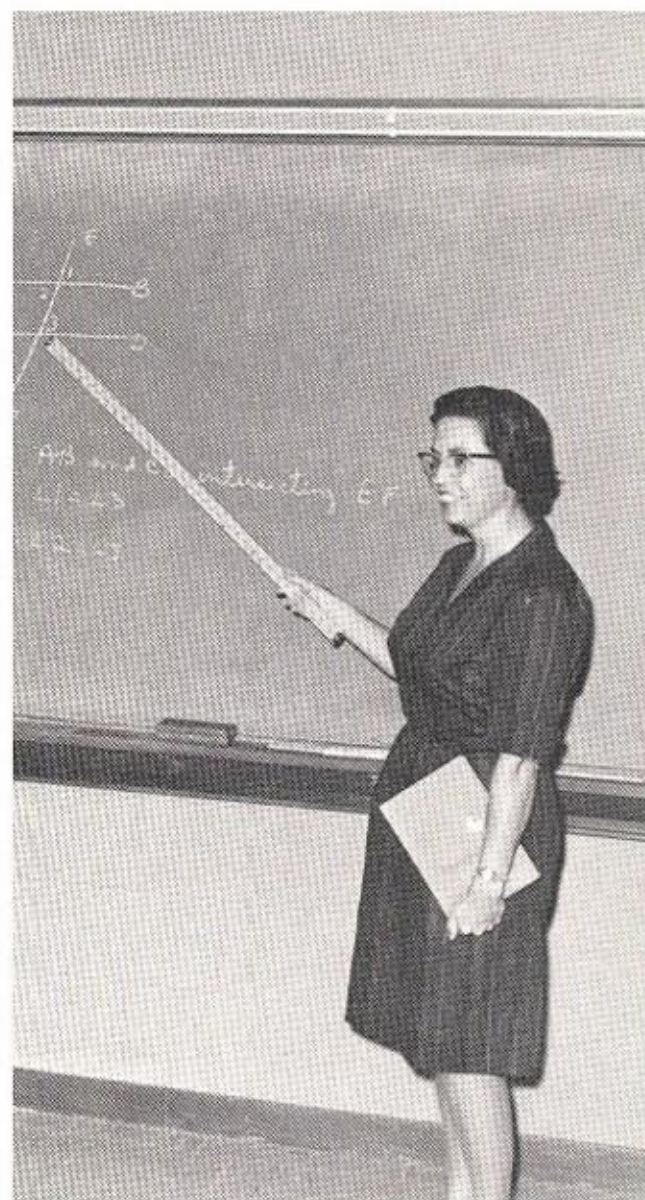

Mrs. Hazel Hall assists English teachers by grading papers.

Math Employs Methods Of Reasoning

The Mathematics Department prepares prospective college students by offering these courses: Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, and Advanced Algebra. It offers a special course in general mathematics for those who need an understanding of practical math and its usage through everyday application. All these courses provide the background for any mathematical pursuit.

Mr. Walton and Mrs. Young make use of the blackboard to explain principles of mathematics.

Science Offers Challenge to Explore The Unknown

Pam and Elaine prepare slides for observation.

The West Rowan Science Department has received recognition through the years for its outstanding achievements. The curriculum includes five courses: General Science, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Advanced Biology. Each of these courses is taught in fully-equipped laboratories which enable the students to understand the complexities of modern science. Many students were rewarded for their hard work this year in science competition.

Slide rules enable students to compute more accurately.

Home Economics Students Learn By Doing

The Home Economics Department includes Home Economics I, II, III, and IV, Food and Clothing Course, and Family Relations. The first two enable students to learn the basic skills required in the management of the home. Family Relations consists of planning for marriage and achieving successful living in families. Students study the factors involved in selecting and planning homes and family finance.

Industrial Skills Produce Craftsmanship

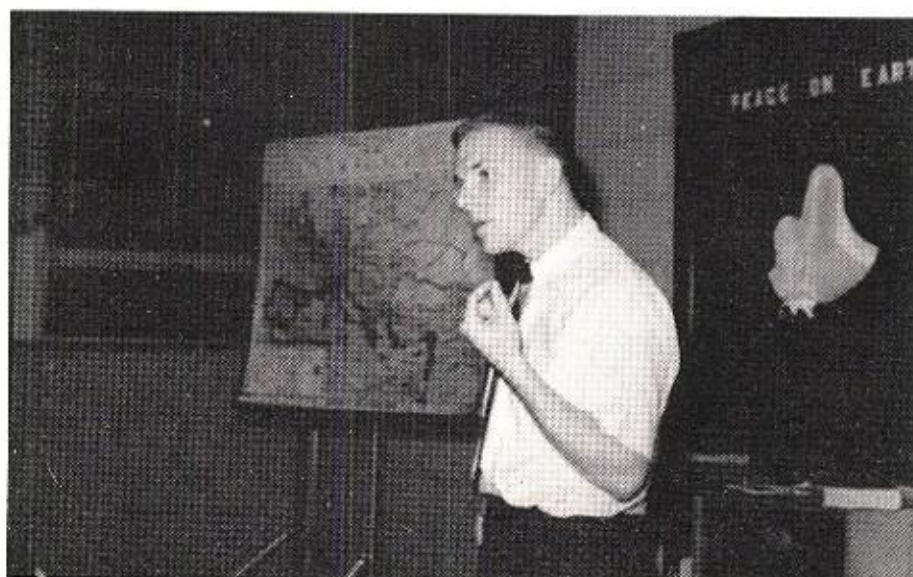

The Industrial Arts Department provides students with many opportunities to investigate apprenticeships in technical skills. The curriculum includes: Industrial Arts I and II, Technical Drafting, Carpentry, and Shop. Although these courses are the basis of an apprenticeship, the knowledge gained by the courses can be used for practical application in personal benefit.

Violation of federal A.B.C. laws in correlation with the Whiskey Rebellion was explained by Mr. Graham.

Students Study Society and History

The curriculum of the History Department incorporates several courses with varied subject matter. The courses include: World History, U. S. History, Government and Economics, and Civics. U. S. History and World History are beneficial to students, in that they do not merely learn the dates of famous events, but instead, they understand why these events occurred. The goal of the government courses is to prepare the student for citizenship by teaching him the Constitution in detail so that he will better understand its application in the working government.

Students Prepare For Business Careers

Shorthand I and II, Typing I and II, Book-keeping and Consumer's Math- these are the courses which make up the Business Department. Students interested in future business employment are encouraged to take the courses of general business. College bound students benefit from typing and shorthand.

Students may chant that Latin is a dead language, but Mr. Parker is able to show them how alive it really is.

Languages Stir Interest In Other Lands

The Language Department offers a limited program in the two-year courses of French and Latin. Students are enriched not only by achieving a working vocabulary in their chosen language but also by learning of the history and culture of the country.

Mrs. Stoessel, known for her good humor and hard tests, often takes time to prepare mimeographed sheets to help her students.

Mental Health Depends On Physical Well-Being

Other than courses in athletics, the curriculum includes instruction in good mental and physical hygiene. The department has access to various sports facilities which have resulted in providing an interesting and beneficial program for all who participate.

Students Offer Services

The library, under the direction of Mrs. Ellene McIntyre, is the core of knowledge at West. In keeping with the standards set by the S.A.A.S., and by presenting cultural displays, the library has acquired a reputation of quality. Students taking Library Science learn all that which is necessary for the function of a library. The Audio-Visual Aids Club, which stems from the library, consists of members who devote their time and services for useful purposes.

All School Events Receive Complete Coverage In The Talon

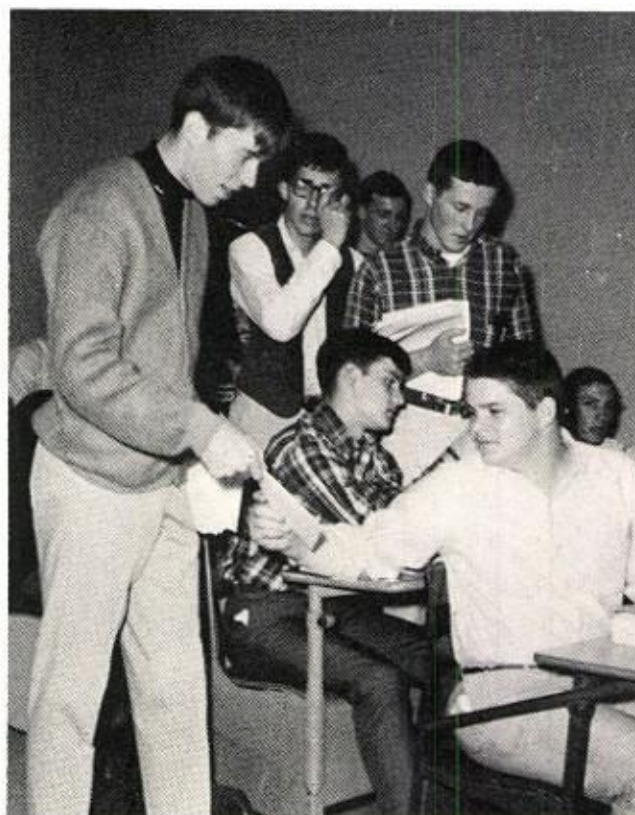

Twice a month, the newspaper staff distributes the school paper, the TALON, which provides news of the past, present and future events which concern West Rowan High School. The TALON, informs students of club activities, sports events, scholastic achievements, and anything else concerning school affairs. In addition, the newspaper has special holiday features: the CLAW and the Valentine's edition.

Typists for the TALON: Janis Cranford, Barbara Faison, Kathy Wyatt, Brenda Schenk, Janice Nail, Shane Bradshaw.

Ray Shytle, once a staff advisor, still aids members of the staff in getting the Talon out on schedule.

The paper is sold every other Friday during sixth period.

Band Attends World's Fair, Provides

The band, under the direction of Mr. Bobby Taylor, has received much acclaim for their quality of performance. Available to all students, the course's main objectives are to teach music in its cultural and social aspects and to develop both the students' appreciation and skill for music. The band is one of the important factors at football games, providing entertainment at pre-game and at half-time. It also participates in state festivals and various parades.

Cheerleaders and Majorettes Boost School Spirit

Rip 'em up, tear 'em up, give 'em 'em & %$)( blue! The cheerleaders lead the school in spirit, pep, and promote enthusiasm among the students and athletes. Requirements for a Falcon cheerleader are: average scholastic achievement, ability to cheer, personality, and pep.

The Majorettes are directed by Mr. Bobby Taylor. Girls should have training in baton twirling and marching for eligibility. With the exception of one, all the majorettes are veterans to the squad. They have put in long hours after school and in summer sessions practicing for the football games and parades.

Gail Pinkston (Chief), Jeanie Wrights, Renie Simmerson, Rusty Goodman, Barbara Harrison, and Judy Weaver.

Crowned Queen

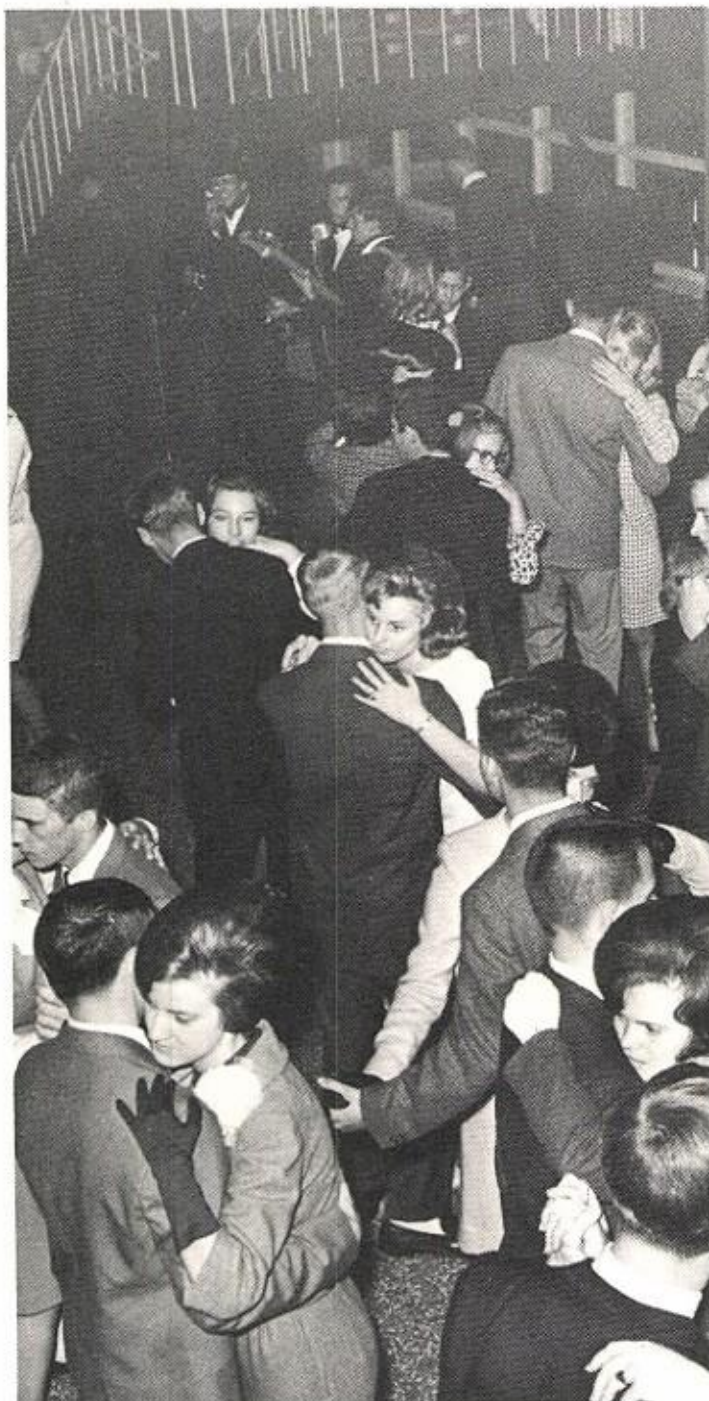

The Pageantry of A Coronation

Homecoming Attendants: Freshman: Kay Sloop; Sophomores: Joyce Poteat, Gail Pinkston; Juniors: Ann Smith, Kippy Weaver, absent; Seniors: Martha Jones, Judy Weaver.

Homecoming night, one of the most important social and athletic events of the school year, culminates worry and work. The student body elects attendants to the court, while the honor of selecting the queen goes to members of the football team. Brenda Cheves was chosen as queen because of her beauty and personality. She has led the school in spirit as a cheerleader and has been honored by the Senior Class by being selected as "best looking."

Classes, clubs, and other organizations entered floats into the homecoming procession. The float submitted by the Senior Class was judged to be the winner.

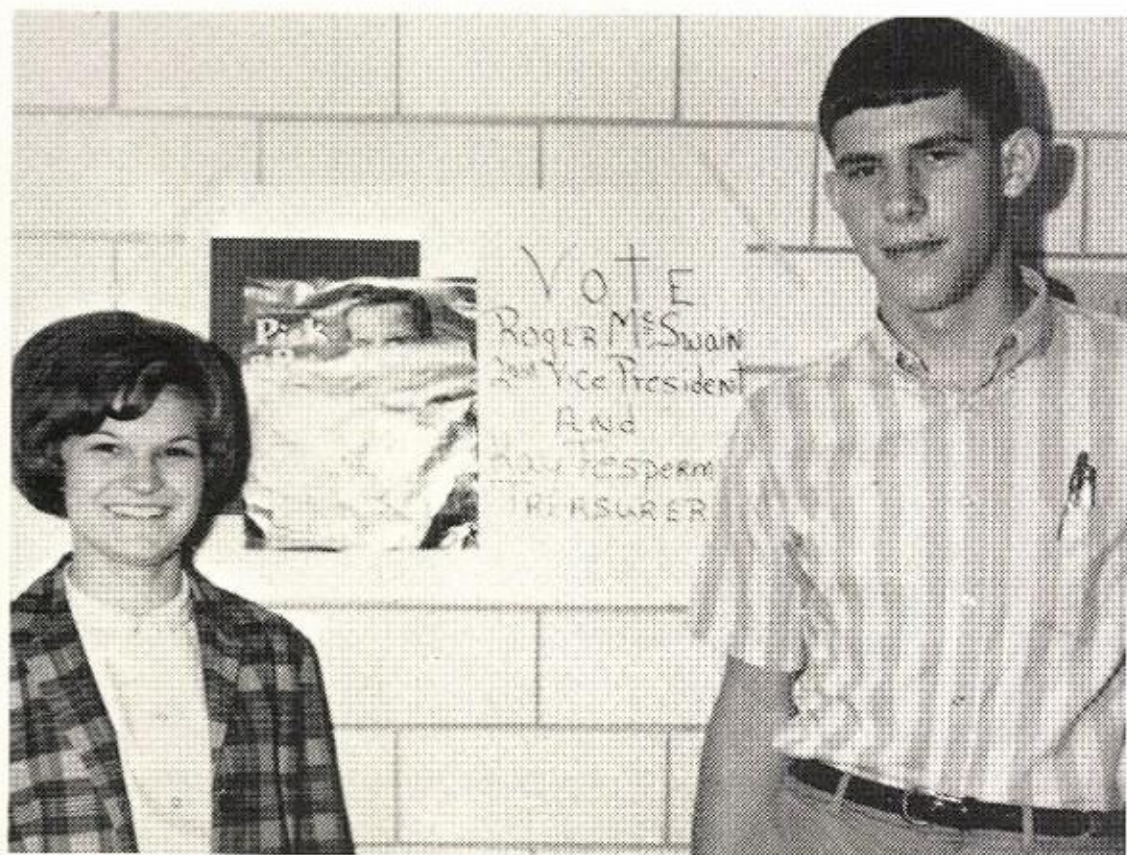

The Variations present their talents at the dance.

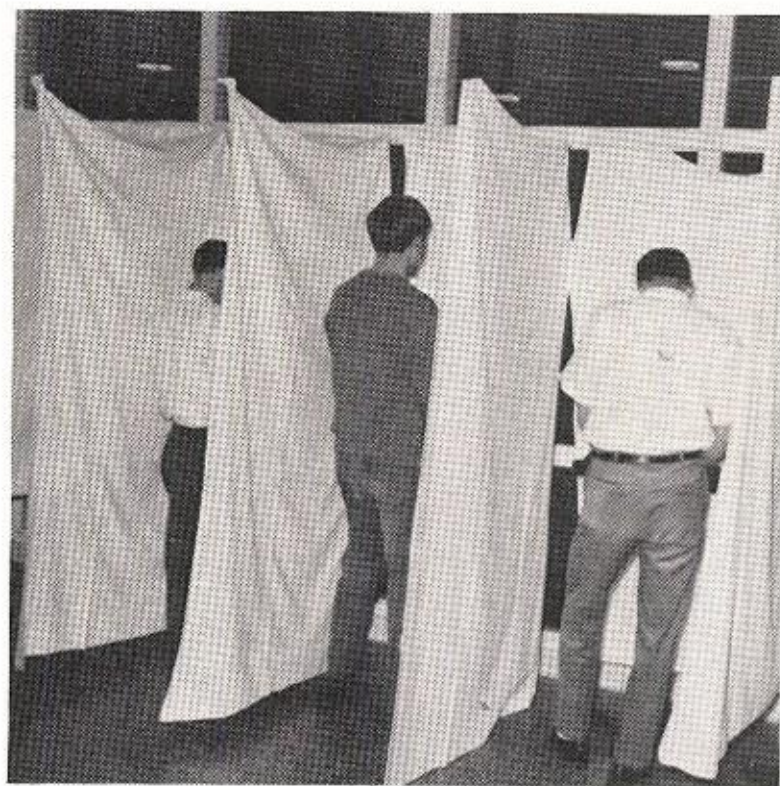

The Journalism Class works hard on their float.

Elections! Elections! Elections!

In the Student Council elections held in the spring, candidates for offices and their managers campaigned for a week. Any means of advertising - badges, posters, ribbon, - were hung from the walls, lockers, almost anywhere.

On the afternoon of Thursday, April 20 an assembly was held to allow candidates to gain support of the student body through speeches, students' demonstrations, and skits. The results of the voting which occurred Friday in the lobby of the activity building brought success to only one candidate, Mike Hensley, now 2nd Vice-President. After run-offs were held, the remaining victorious candidates were: Bill Poston, President; Ann Smith, 1st Vice-President; Joyce Poteat, Secretary; Robert Knox, Treasurer.

ATHLETICS

Athletics is an important part of the student life at West. The boys and girls who are active in competitive sports deserve our recognition and praise for their outstanding and loyal efforts to win fame and respect for the Falcons. Much credit must be given to the coaching staff whose knowledge and experience has helped to produce fine athletes and winning teams.

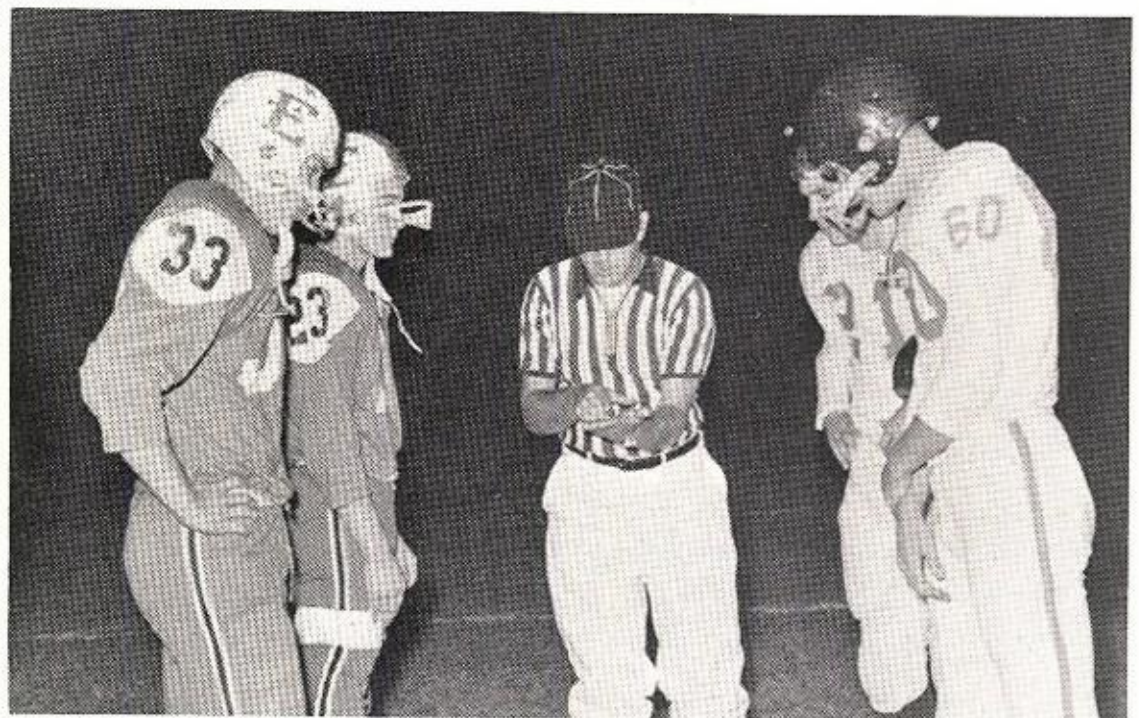

Aside from skill and ability, a team must have support. This job falls to the cheerleaders who must encourage good sportsmanship among athletes and loyalty among the student body. It is to those students who attended the games to give our team support and encouragement that we owe thanks for representing our school well.

FOOTBALL

The '65 Falcons enjoyed the best conference record in the history of the school and the best over-all record. In conference play, the gridders took victories over North, Monroe, Children's Home, and Troutman, losing to Davie County, Mooresville, and East. Several factors kept the season from being even more successful than it was. The shake-up in the coaching staff after only one game, coupled with a rash of injuries to key personnel added an extra burden for the team to carry. Carry it they did, however, and the Falcons complied a record of performance and sportsmanship that can be a source of pride to West students, fans, and supporters. Beyond this, the importance of the season rests with the individual player. There were the hours in the classroom learning the game, the seemingly endless time on the field, the hundreds of push-ups, windmills, and neck bridges, countless bruises, lumps, and cuts, the ever-present question "Is it worth it?", the almost unanimous answer "Yes", and in the end the realization that each will be a better man for having played.

Coach Chalk and Coach Koontz discuss tonight's game.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

It was the best season ever for the boys' basketball team. After a disappointing 2-4 preseason record, the team bounded back to knock off 13 straight North Piedmont Conference opponents to wrap up the first NPC Championship since 1961. The best game of the year was a toss-up among the preseason win over South Rowan, the game against North Rowan which captured the title, and the tournament win over Thomasville. The final total record for the team was 16-6. Three players received distinction after the season was over. Howard "Dinker" Jones, who led Rowan County scoring with a 17.0 average, and Bill Watson, who quarterbacked the team from his guard spot, were named All-Conference, All-County, and All-Tournament players. Sophomore Roger McSwain was an All-Conference and honorable mention All-County Selection.

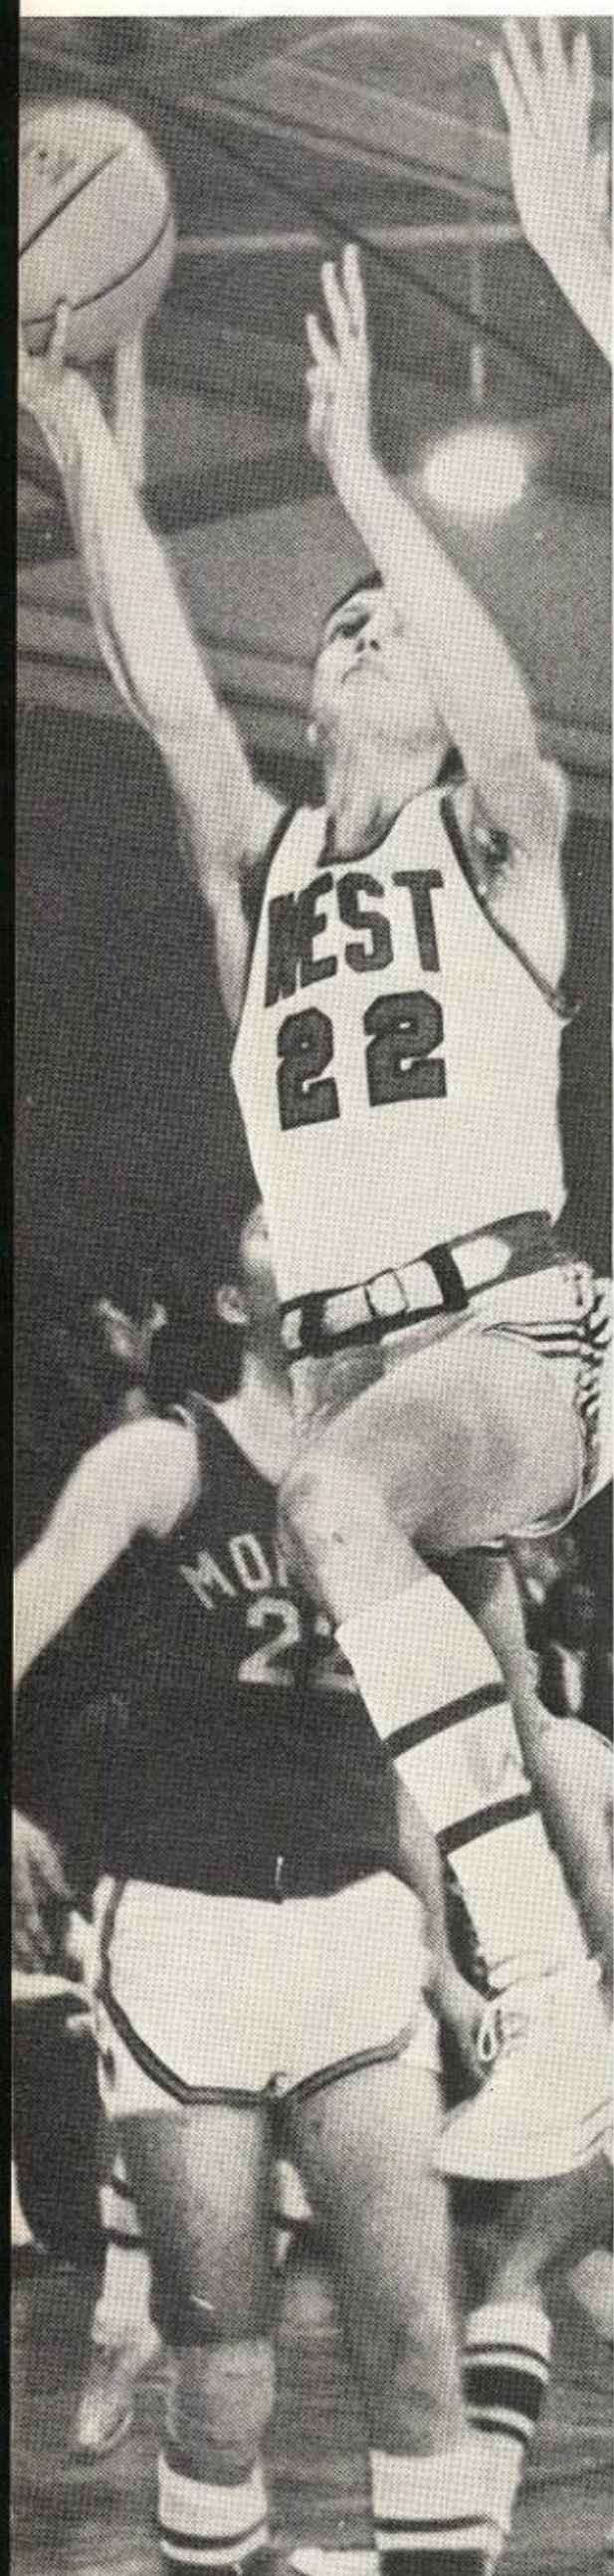

For Coach Doug Chalk, it was his first championship since coming to West. He was named Rowan County's Coach of the Year by local coaches and sportswriters.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Girls' Basketball Team finished this year with one of the best records West's girls have ever had. The season was completed with a 10-4 record in conference games and an overall record of 12-6. Two great accomplishments stand out this year. We beat South for the first time in four years and beat East and Monroe for the first time in three years.

WRESTLING

Coach Ralph Walton's Grapplers had a successful season with a 6-6-1 record. The wrestlers were the county champions with a 5-1 record. Six West wrestlers made the All-County Wrestling Team. They were: Joe McDaniel, Raymond McDaniel, David Allen, Bill Cranfield, Teddy Graham, and Harry Welch. Two wrestlers placed in the WNCHSAA tournament at Boone. David Allen won first place and Bill Cranfield, third.

BASEBALL

The West Rowan Baseball team had a very successful team this year. We finished second in the North Piedmont Conference. Our team compiled a 8-4 record through the fine efforts of many concerned young baseballers. Jerry Graham, Gary Pinkston, Herby Cauble, and Junior Fesperman were chosen All-Conference from the Falcon squad this year. They are just the representatives of an outstanding group of hard-working boys who never went into a game without first deciding to do their absolute best for the team. A special thanks should be given to the man we feel instilled this winning attitude in the team-Jim Koontz, whom we tremendously appreciate and respect for his help and understanding.

The West Rowan track team finished its most successful season this year, placing second in the annual Conference Meet. Most of us worked hard this year to become top athletes. And then there's Bill Cranfield, our natural-born athlete, who was the main reason for our success as a team; when you run, it's for the whole team; when you win, it's for the whole team. Our coaches, Chalk and Walton, were the prime source of inspiration, with their wit, encouragement, and whips. Actually, we all appreciated their help terrifically. It's really admiration that caused us to run for them as we did this year. The track team is proud of its winning season and its winning coaches.

CLASSES

Each individual underclassman at West owes a certain amount of loyalty to his particular class. This year the annual stream of Freshmen somehow survived the pitfalls and turmoil of the beginning of their high school year. Already organized and adjusted to West, the Sophomores and Juniors have established their places here. The Seniors are the most distinguished and significant members of the student body: consequently, they are the leaders of the school. Because of their four-year experience in the school's affairs and activities, they are granted special privileges-and are given the honor and respect which they justly deserve.

A Night of Oriental Bliss

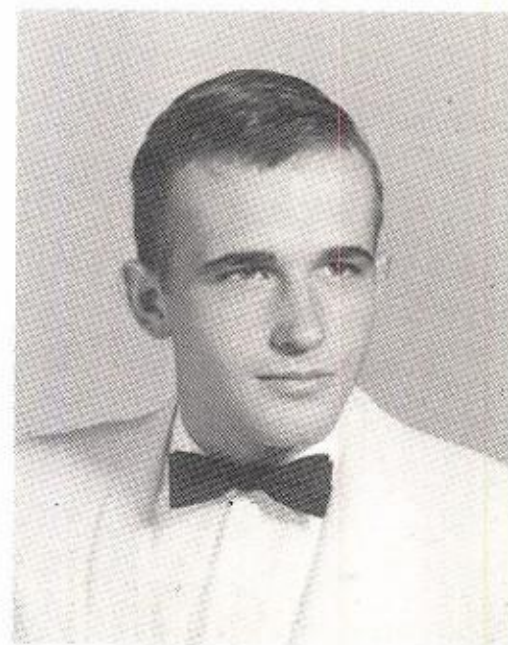

On April 29th, the Junior Class honored the senior class with an enchanting evening set in an oriental atmosphere of serenity and beauty. The theme of this Japanese facsimile was Shangri-La. Entertainment for the guests was provided by the "Knights", an eight-member combo, which kept the group alive from 8:30 until 11:30 P.M. After the Grand March, the main event of the evening--the crowning of the king and queen--occurred. This year, the junior class selected Martha Jones queen and Larry Campbell king, who, accompanied by participants of the Grand March, danced to the tune Shangri-La. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing and dining with everyone thoroughly enjoying himself.

Sadness and Pride Went Hand In Hand As Seniors Took Last Bows

Graduation, June 3rd, 1966, marked the end of four years of intellectual growth at West Rowan for 163 students. Tommy Hendren, Brenda Swearingen, Eddie Ellis, Wells Hall, and Peggy Kluttz, five honor students, spoke on achieving maturity through different aspects of character development. The theme of graduation at the Commencement was; "Turn, turn, my wheel! 'Tis nature's plan the child should grow into the man." - Tennyson. The Northwestern Bank Science Award, the Balfour Scholarship- Loyalty-Achievement Awards, the Woodleaf Civitan Citizenship's Award and the Booster Club Awards were presented to conclude the graduating exercise.

These Experiences Will Pass But Forever Remain A Part of Us

Closing Thoughts

The school year 1965-66 is gone forever. It had sad moments as well as happy ones for all of us. There are some memories we wish to forget; there are more we shall always cherish. This past June the Seniors reached the apex of their high school career, and although all students at West will remember this year, it is the departing Seniors who will view it with particular sentiment as they branch out into the world to establish their places in society.

It is our hope that all aspects of school life at West Rowan have been accurately recorded in this '66 WEST WIND and that good times are brought to the minds of all West students who explore its pages. Thus, a fruitful year has drawn to a close, but the reminiscence of its jubilation and eventfulness will never be abandoned from the hearts and minds of the class of '66.

Betty
I want to wish you the best of luck, & may you & William be very happy together
God Bless a very sweet girl.

Love Always
Henrico Martin

Betty,
Cleveland was fun, but it wasn't anything like West is. I hope your junior & senior year are great.
Just think - the prom! Best of luck to a nice girl.

Always,
Elaine Hewitt

Beck.
It has been real great knowing you these past year. Don't even forget the time we had in P.E. But we have had some great time together though. But wishes to a real great friend.
Brenda

Beck
I really has been great knowing you.
you are really a great friend. I have really had some good times this year with you and Frankie. Remember the time we put the snake up on in Study Hall. It was really great. I have we have as much time this year.
Love ya
Repsy

Deek, I guess its another year of this place. Boy we have really had our share of fun.
I hope we always continue to be as close friends as we are today. Maybe if we're lucky we'll get into alot of trouble this year-ha? You and William behave yourselves as Steve and I do. Be sweet and you will succeed! Will have to study real hard this year! ha.

Love
Franky Pacy

Betty,
Well, I don't know what too say, but here great knowing you been these past years. It has really too a girl! There's luck have, always

Betty, been fun knowing you the past year & I hope we get to know each other better in the future. We're had a lot of in Biology cutting up frogs this past year haven't we? Ha!
Good luck in the future & may God bless you.
Always,
Gudy

Betty Bean
It has great going to school with you these past 10 years. We have had some good times together. You are a sweet & cute girl. Stay the way you are and you will go far in life. Be good, Be careful.
Love ya,
Barbara P.

Betty,

I've really enjoyed the times we've had together. You are really one of my very best friends.
Remember all the talks we have had. I would like to thank you for being such a good friend. And also listening to all my many problems. I am hoping to have many more wild times. May God Always Be with you.

Love Ya Always,
Wanda
